COVERDALE MARRIED

And what of Miss Crofton and Horaco D'Alinnyne? They were plotting; and the direction their s hemes took may be seen from the following dialogue. The whole party were in the park. Mr. Clane had led his wife and Alice on; D'Almayne. who seemed to have transferred his allegiance from Kate to devote himself to Alice, was laughing close to the si le of the latter, talking that small talk which dandlies are great at, and ladies for the most part are not averse to. Alco looked up now and then, and rewarded the accomplished advenorer with a smile. Miss Crof.on was unattended. Saidenly, just as the party were about to turn an angle of the thickly planted walk, that ludy sto-ped-stooped to look at something, and then called "Mr. D'Almayne." Horace walked to the spot. "What is that?" asked Miss Crofton, posing at some object is the grass with her parasal. D'Almayne reached over and picked it up. It was a German coin, which, to tell the truth, Miss Crefton had dropped there only the m ment before. "How carious!" she said; thefore.

were you ever in Germany?"
"Yes," answered D'Almayne, hasti-

"I-I really do not know," said D'Almayne, coloring to the roots of his hair; for the lady had fixed on the very year when he had the misfortune

D'Almayne made no answer. If he had not much conscience, he had a quick consciousness, and he knew, as well as though Miss Crofton had the lady—"know that you have tasted like fare of the galleys."

A thousand though a flashed through the mind of D'AP mayne:—the rocollection of his prast life—the sense of ing of disgrace, borne till it had become habitual—the hitterness of wasted opportunity, the triumph of successful knavery, the perilousness of his present position. The human mind is always a puzzle; but in the oriminal mind, with its tortuous intricacies, the enigma is deepened into complexity. The words rose to his lips to deny the accusation directed against him, but his lips refused to utter them. He knew that the charge was true--that would not have prevented him from using a falsebood. What had more effect was the certainty, as it seemed to him, that Miss Crofton know it likewise. As she stood there with great black eyes, staring as though into his soul with a confident gaze, the last hope left him that it was only a surmise on her part. The impulse came upon him to beat her to the earth, but the reflection came with it that that would do no good. It would lose him his position by leading to inevitabele exposure. He asked at length as calmly as he could, "What, then, is your object? do you intend to expose me?" Oh dear no," said Mis Crofton smiling triumphantly; "I do not know that I have an object beyond letting you understand that I know you. It is for you to take care that you give me no other motives. Shall we walk on?" "Stop one minute. Does any one else know this?"

was perhaps necessary for her safety that she should. "Any one else ?"

"Oh dear yes; plenty of others, as you must be well aware too-but not here I think. Come, give me your urm, and walk on before our absence

Moral Fortune Telling, Despicable as the practice which goes by the name of fortune-telling is, we believe there is a kind of fortune telling which is not only possible, but easily practised upon correct principles. Thus, to begin with the young, when we see a child obedient to his or her parents or teachers, or any one else towards whom the subordinate relation has become necessary, we have no hesitation in predicting that good fortune will accompany such a child into carly manhood or womanhood, and ensure a fair start in adult life. If the case he that of an honest, energetic young man, who has successfully advanced from the position of apprentice and journeyman into that of a feedered on the congress had start in adult life. If the case he that of master mechanic or boss we can tell his for-tune without much difficulty. So with regard to those who have chosen a profession as the means of livelihood. Let us see how on its arrival at Ceuta, the Spanish were > [Correspondence of the News.] Fire in Westerly.

WESTERLY, Dec. 27th, 1859. MR. EDITOR:- We were startled, this afternoon, by the ringing of bells, blowing of whistles and the cry of fire.

A funeral was being attended at the Seventh Day Baptist Church, the building was crowded uncomfortably full and the Rev. Mr. Burdick, was nearly through his sermon, when the room began to fill with smoke-and presently the flames burst up through the floor, in the midst of the congregation. Some jumped from the windows, but most found egress thro' the doors. "Why ask that question, when you could answer it yourself? You know by buckets and otherwise, two engines were that Kate—drs. Crane—knows it. It brought to the recoue, and after a severe The house was soon cleared, water brought brought to the resour, and after a severe struggle, the people succeeded in subduing the fire. Fortunately no one was seriously hurt, altho' several received slight injuries. Several ladies who jumped from the winflows, were bruised a little. The correspondent says ha would not use the strength of Hercules to kill a fly, and he concluded by stating that there is yet "unfettered utterance of the diversities of opinion on all social and political questions," though it has been said that free speech and the press have been subjected to dictation.

Benjamin Thurman, late Sheriff of Hawkins Co., Tenn., died recently from the fol-lowing singular cause: While throwing on his overcost, he struck his hand on the his overcost, he struct his hand on the door knob, and slightly abraded the skin, he then put on a wet glove and rode several miles, took a chill—gangrene, and perhaps tetanus followed—resulting in his death on the seventh day.

The Dubuque Herald says Iowa is es ed by gangs of men banded together for he perpetration of crime. Old and wealthy men have been engaged in cattle stealing; young and promising men have been con-victed of horse stealing; men of influence havebeen condemned to long imprisonment for passing counterfeit coin; and others have forged and counterfeited bank bills.

Parson Brownlow, of Knoxville, Tenn., assigns as a reason why he did not visit Washington, on his late trip East, that he had in his rocket $20 in money, a through ticket to Lyrchburgh six good shirts in a carpet sack, and an overcoat worth $20, and this was more than he was willing to risk in that den of thieves.

The Masonic Register for 1860 states that the whole number of Lodges of Free Masons in the United States and Territories and other countries is 6,360, and allowing an average of 65 members to each lodge, the whole number of Free Masons throughout the world is 413,400.

The last of October and the first of November in Great Britain are said to have been the coldest and stormiest of any season within the memory of the oldest in-habitant. FOUNELL'S FABULUM VITAE,

THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY properties for the speedy and permanent curcof COMENTATION, RENONDITIS, GOUGHS, GOLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the curcof Polmonary Disease, both from its innocent nature and its most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the decelopment of Tubercles in the Langs, or restors the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendations and praise from some of the most eminent physicalus and chemists in the country; while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalited virtues of this great discovery. This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloid present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are efficiently used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration.

PROFESSOR WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Saya the St. Luws (Mo) Democrat: Below we publish a letter to Dr. Wood of this city, from a gentlemen in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superfur merits of his halt tonic. Such cridence must have its effect, when coming from a teliable source. If certificates are guerantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums nor useless puller; from BASE, Maine, Jan. 29, 1859.

BAHL Maine, Jan. 29, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.;

Gentlemen: Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial offects of your lair reatomities. I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite grey, probably one-third white; my whisker were of same character. Some three months fines. I produced a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now cernify to the world that the gray or white hair his totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its antural color, and I believe, more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty-five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fity-two has used it with the same effect.

The flower notice I deen, due to you for your affinible discovery. I am assured that whove er will rightly use, as per directions, will not have uccasion to contradict my statements. I am a clitzen of this city and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am hanwarto nearly every one here and adjoining towas. Any use you may make of the above, with my name attached, is at you service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours.

Високитель, Jan 12, 1868.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been ex-cellent in removing inflamation, dandruff and cellent in removing manantum, assurent eme a constant tendency to diching with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

J. K. BRAGO.

The Restorative is put up in Bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium and small; the small he'ds 11-2 a plut, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, ratails for twa dollars a bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent, more in proportion and retails for $3 a bottle.
